

On the occasion of School Board Appreciation Month, LSMS would like to present you with a sculpture made by a student in one of our art classes. We do this with the message of, “The Three R’s are Essential, but Don’t Forget the Arts,” or as we say at LSMS the ARGH-ts.

- The arts teach children that problems can have more than one solution.
- Goals in the arts can be changed as unexpected opportunities arise.
- The arts teach children to make judgments in the absence of rules.
- The arts are about joy.

So be joyful with this playful sculpture, and keep the ARGH-ts in mind!

On the occasion of School Board Appreciation Month, LSMS would like to present you with a sculpture made by a student in one of our art classes. We do this with the message of, “The Three R’s are Essential, but Don’t Forget the Arts,” or as we say at LSMS the ARGH-ts.

- The arts teach children that problems can have more than one solution.
- Goals in the arts can be changed as unexpected opportunities arise.
- The arts teach children to make judgments in the absence of rules.
- The arts are about joy.

So be joyful with this playful sculpture, and keep the ARGH-ts in mind!

On the occasion of School Board Appreciation Month, LSMS would like to present you with a sculpture made by a student in one of our art classes. We do this with the message of, “The Three R’s are Essential, but Don’t Forget the Arts,” or as we say at LSMS the ARGH-ts.

- The arts teach children that problems can have more than one solution.
- Goals in the arts can be changed as unexpected opportunities arise.
- The arts teach children to make judgments in the absence of rules.
- The arts are about joy.

So be joyful with this playful sculpture, and keep the ARGH-ts in mind!

On the occasion of School Board Appreciation Month, LSMS would like to present you with a sculpture made by a student in one of our art classes. We do this with the message of, “The Three R's are Essential, but Don't Forget the Arts," or as we say at LSMS the ARGH-ts.

- The arts teach children that problems can have more than one solution.
- Goals in the arts can be changed as unexpected opportunities arise.
- The arts teach children to make judgments in the absence of rules.
- The arts are about joy.

So be joyful with this playful sculpture, and keep the ARGH-ts in mind!

On the occasion of School Board Appreciation Month, LSMS would like to present you with a sculpture made by a student in one of our art classes. We do this with the message of, "The Three R's are Essential, but Don't Forget the Arts," or as we say at LSMS the ARGH-ts.

- The arts teach children that problems can have more than one solution.
- Goals in the arts can be changed as unexpected opportunities arise.
- The arts teach children to make judgments in the absence of rules.
- The arts are about joy.

So be joyful with this playful sculpture, and keep the ARGH-ts in mind!

On the occasion of School Board Appreciation Month, LSMS would like to present you with a sculpture made by a student in one of our art classes. We do this with the message of, "The Three R's are Essential, but Don't Forget the Arts," or as we say at LSMS the ARGH-ts.

- The arts teach children that problems can have more than one solution.
- Goals in the arts can be changed as unexpected opportunities arise.
- The arts teach children to make judgments in the absence of rules.
- The arts are about joy.

So be joyful with this playful sculpture, and keep the ARGH-ts in mind!